Growing Notes:

2021 was one of the hottest years on record for Idaho. With many temperatures over 95° for many weeks, putting the grape plants into stress mode to conserve their water. Along with the heat, there were smaller berry sizes, which in turn led to smaller fruit yields. Out of what was harvested, the fruit had very intense colors and bold flavors from the wines crafted. 2021 vintage was truly distinctive from many other vintages.
